

By Parliament Spaines late fraud was discovered, and by Act the two Treaties, with that perfidious Nation, for the match of the Prince, our gracious King; and restitution of the Palatinate were dissolved and annihilated: both which had cost the King and his Subjects much monie, and much blood. We may remember that that sage Counceller of State Sir William Cecil Lord Burleigh and Lord Treasurer of England, was oft times heard to say, He knew not what an Act of Parliament might not doe: which sage saying was approved by King James, and by his Maiestie alleged in one of his published speeches.

Which being so, now the face of Christendome being at this present so torne and miserably mangled, and the Christian World distracted, the Gospell in places, almost persecuted, both Church and Common-wealth where the Gospell is professed, in all places beyond the Seas, lying a bleeding (as we may say) and we our selves at home not without fears and danger. To conclude, what good may we not hope and pray for, by this present and other ensuing Parliaments: the onely meanes to rectifie and remedy matters in Church and Common-wealth much a misse. Amen.
